Notes: Sermon Text Subject Spiritual "To Do List" (things God has shown me today)

Offertory Words

Lift every voice and sing till earth and heaven ring,
ring with the harmonies of liberty;
let our rejoicing rise high as the listening skies,
let it resound loud as the rolling sea.

Sing a song full of the faith that the dark past has taught us,
sing a song full of the hope that the present has brought us;
facing the rising sun of our new day begun,
let us march on till victory is won.

Stony the road we trod, bitter the chastening rod,
felt in the days when hope unborn had died;
yet with a steady beat, have not our weary feet
come to the place for which our people sighed?
We have come over a way that with tears has been watered;
we have come, treading our path through the blood of the slaughtered, out from the gloomy past, till now we stand at last
where the white gleam of our bright star is cast.

God of our weary years, God of our silent tears, thou who hast brought us thus far on the way; thou who hast, by thy might, led us into the light, keep us forever in the path, we pray.

Lest our feet stray from the places, our God, where we met thee, lest, our hearts drunk with the wine of the world, we forget thee; shadowed beneath thy hand, may we forever stand, true to our God, true to our native land.

— Public Domain TEXT: James W. Johnson, 1900 TUNE: J. Rosamund Johnson, 1900

Initially a poem for a school assembly at which Booker T. Washington spoke on Lincoln's birthday in 1900, this text and tune have gained national recognition and devotion, not only within the African-American community, but also among all who seek liberation from oppression.

The psalmist states that thanksgiving is the sacrifice that best glorifies

God. Welcome to worship as we thank and praise the Lord together.

Call To Worship - Master Chorus Book #42

I will lift my heart in prayer, I will lift my heart in prayer To the God who hears His children praying, I lift my heart.

I will lift my voice in song, I will lift my voice in song To the God who fills our lives with music, I lift my voice.

We will lift our hands in praise, we will lift our hands in praise To the God who purchased our redemption, We lift our praise.
